Arrow Express

INFORMATION

The Cincinnati Transit Company will operate the popular ARROW EXPRESS service to Crosley Field during the 1955 season for NIGHT GAMES ONLY.

The round trip fare is sixty cents with transfer privilege. Those paying city fare to board ARROW get credit on presenting their transfer. Anyone can make the return trip by paying 30 cents.

IT IS PERMISSABLE FOR A PERSON TO BOARD THE ARROW AT A CERTAIN STARTING PLACE AND RETURN HOME ON THE ARROW TO A DIFFERENT LOCATION.

ARROW BUSES operate according to times shown on the map. The ARROW EXPRESS can be recognized by two flags in front. Can be boarded at any bus stop on the seven routes.

AFTER THE GAME: Returning home—ARROW EXPRESS bearing the same number as your return ticket will be waiting for you in the parking lot just outside the ball park—No. 1, first; No. 2, next, and so on. Walk right to your number bus and board it.

CHARTER SERVICE

SPECIAL BUSES are available for groups, organizations, friends, etc., who wish to attend the Redleg game in a body.

It is a convenient, quick, safe, economical way to go.
PHONE MAin 4580 . . . Ask for CHARTER SERVICE

NOTE*—Figures under H denote homers hit at home, figures under R denote homers on road.

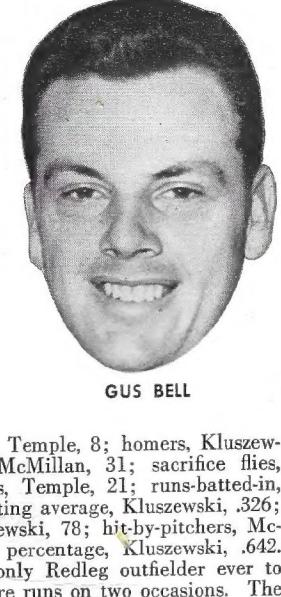

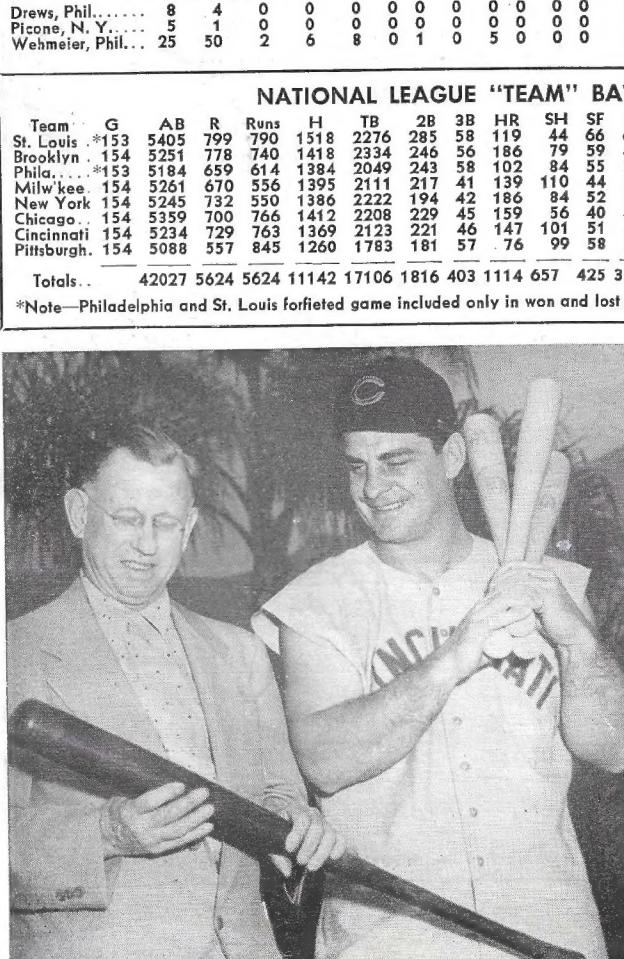

Ted Kluszewski, the major league's 1954 home run and runs-batted-in king, led the Cincinnati Redlegs in practically all offensive departments while erasing the majority of all-time Rhine-land records with his terrific bat.

Redleg leaders in 1954 were: Most at bats, Bell, 619; runs, Bell and Kluszewski, 104; hits, Kluszewski, 187; total bases, Kluszewski, 368; singles, Kluszewski, 133; doubles, Bell, 38; triples, Temple, 8; homers, Kluszewski, 49; sacrifices, McMillan, 31; sacrifice flies, Bell, 8; stolen bases, Temple, 21; runs-batted-in, Kluszewski, 141; batting average, Kluszewski, .326; base on balls, Kluszewski, 78; hit-by-pitchers, McMillan, 5; slugging percentage, Kluszewski, .642.

Gus Bell is the only Redleg outfielder ever to drive in a 100 or more runs on two occasions. The only other Redleg outfielder ever to drive in a 100 runs in a single season was Greengrass with 100 runs in a single season.

Kluszewski's 49 homers and the 27 by Greengrass is the all-time Redleg record for two-player total in one season—total of 76.

Roy McMillan paced the shortstops in the league in putouts, 341; and double-plays, 129; while tying with Johnny Logan for most total chances, 839.

Cincinnati tied its own National League record for double-plays by reeling off 194. The club posted similar marks in 1928 and 1931. The Redlegs also executed the only triple-play of the season: Bobby Adams, Temple and Kluszewski on August 27 against Pittsburgh.

Dr. Anderson Begins Fifth Season as Redleg Trainer

Dr. Anderson works on Rudy Minarcin

Despite his youthful years, Dr. Wayne Anderson has already established himself as one of the most capable trainers in the major leagues.

The 1955 season will be the fifth year that the popular Anderson has served as Redleg trainer. A major factor attesting to Dr. Anderson's ability as a soother of aches and pains are the requests for information and advice that are directed his way from other clubs; people in all walks of life; football, basketball, hockey and tennis teams; boxers, wrestlers, and just about every type of sports competitor in existence.

A trainer on a big league club is an all-around nursemaid for the players. He massages sore muscles, rubs a hurler's arm into shape, prescribes or dispenses pills for upset stomachs, colds, headaches, coughs and various other ailments, dictates the proper treatment for injured players, advises the manager when it is feasible for a sidelined athlete to return to the lineup, along with a multitude of other helpful acts that crop up in a big league clubhouse during the course of a season.

Anderson's record in these varied assignments is very impressive. The Redleg players, especially the pitchers, 'swear' by the "Doc".

He credits the famed Denny Carroll, veteran Detroit trainer, with teaching him the secrets of the trade.

He injected life into the ailing arm of Ewell Blackwell when others said it couldn't be done.

When little Jackie Collum reported to the Redlegs he had an ailing wing which Anderson soon got into shape.

His untiring work with injured players and skillful handling of their ailments has proven invaluable to the Redleg club.

Wayne set out early in his childhood to become a trainer. He became clubhouse boy for visiting Pacific Coast League clubs in Los Angeles as a youngster and met many ball players. Eddie Sawyer, former manager of the Phillies and in those days an outfielder, and Eddie Leishman, both with Oakland, were special favorites of the youth.

Anderson's father, mother and sister were killed in an auto wreck in Arizona in the summer of 1936. Wayne was a vacation guest of Sawyer and Leishman at the time.

Leishman became the guardian of the 17-year-old and he made his home with Leishman and Sawyer through 1937. During this time he was clubhouse boy for Oakland, which was managed by Bill Meyer. Leishman now owns the Salt Lake City team.

Sawyer and Leishman, knowing of his intense desire to become a trainer, aided him in entering the University of Washington. Four years later he received a doctor of chiropractic degree (1940) and his career began taking shape.

To help finance his way through school he had been trainer for the Hollywood club in 1939 and '40 while attending college.

The war intervened and it was Lieutenant Anderson on a Navy submarine for four years. In 1947 he was trainer for Sacramento under Manager Dick Bartell. During the following two years was with the same club working for Manager Del Baker, and in 1950 under Manager Red Kress. "Doc" made his debut with the Redlegs in 1951.

During the off-season Dr. Anderson has been associated with the Redleg Ticket Office, specializing in "Special Ticket Plans".

He manages to find time to send questionnaires to all of the Redlegs regarding their weight and health. He has a special diet which he prescribes for those accumulating too much poundage.

TWENTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF NIGHT BASEBALL

PAUL DERRINGER

During the 1935 season when Powel Crosley, Jr. was President of the Cincinnati Redlegs and Larry Mac-Phail, the general manager, the first night game in major league history was played at Crosley Field on May 24, 1935. The 1955 season marks the 20th anniversary of night baseball.

The first night game was scheduled for May 23, 1935 but had to be postponed until the following evening because of rain.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt pressed a button in the White House in Washington, which, by some ingenious device, lit the 632 lamps that changed night into day at Crosley Field.

Big Paul Derringer defeated Joe Bowman and the Philadelphia Phillies, 2-1, before a crowd of 20,422 fans.

The Phillies out-hit the winners, six to four, with Billy Sullivan getting two hits for the Redlegs. Derringer fanned three and didn't walk a man. Big Paul and Ival Goodman, the Cincinnati right fielder that evening, are now residents of Cincinnati.

Ted Kluszewski

Huge, bear-like Ted Kluszewski led the major leagues in 1954 in home runs with 49 and also in runs-batted-in with 141. The likeable first sacker, one of the strongest men in baseball, hit 34 circuit smashes at Crosley Field and 15 on the road. The 6-2, 230 pound "Klu" blasted 36 homers off right hand pitchers and 13 off southpaws.

Ted connected for four home runs in April, nine in May, seven in June, eight in July, 13 in August (a Redleg record), and eight in September. The popular 30-year-old hit five three-run homers and no grand slams. His 49 homers accounted for 76 of his 149 runs-batted-in. Kluszewski, in leading the majors in home runs and setting an all-time Redleg record, gained a spot among the elite home run hitters of all time. Here are the top home run hitters:

EPPA RIXEY—TOP REDLEG WINNER

"Eppa Jeptha" Won 179 as a Redleg

EPPA RIXEY

EPPA RIXEY, the big, likeable, drawling southerner, won 266 games in the 21 seasons he spent in the National League as a member of the Philadelphia Phillies and the Cincinnati Redlegs, while losing 251.

The 6-5, 210 pound southpaw won 179 for Cincinnati in the 13 seasons he wore Redleg livery (1921 to 1933) which is the most games ever won by any hurler during a Redleg career.

What makes Rixey's record even more remarkable is the fact that he toiled for a second-division team in 13 of his 21 years of service. Eppa notched four "20-game" seasons (three with Cincy) and on two occasions won 19 games for the Rhinelander.

Eppa was born at Culpepper, Virginia on May 3, 1891 and was discovered by Umpire Cy Rigler, who umpired in the National League

Rigler also served as baseball coach at the University of Virginia until his big league umpiring duties called him when the season opened.

He noticed big Ep playing basketball at the University of Virginia and was impressed with his natural ability and asked him to come out for the baseball team.

He became a standout for the college nine and finished his course in June of 1912 when he had just turned 21.

Rixey graduated with honors as a chemist and was set to make a living in that field but Rigler induced him to accept an offer from the Phillies.

Big Eppa went direct from the campus to the National League. Pat Moran was the catcher for the Phils and was a big help to Rixey. Moran became manager in 1915 and won the pennant with Eppa being a big aid. Rixey appeared in one series game.

He likes to recall the 1916 season when he notched 22 wins against 10 defeats. "All they talked about," Ep recalls, "was a fellow named Grover Cleveland Alexander on the same team. That darned ole Pete won 33 games. The son-of-a-gun won more than 90 games in three years."

Moran left the Phils after the 1918 season and went to Cincinnati. He kept his eye on Rixey and finally was successful in landing the towering lefthander for the Redlegs after the 1920 season.

Rixey, who had one of the best moves to first of any hurler in the majors, came to the Redlegs as a 30-year-old in 1921 and won 19 games. He followed with marks of 25, 20, 15, 21, 14, 12, 19, 10, 9, 4, 5, and 6. He hung up his glove in 1933 at the age of 42.

In his 21 seasons in the majors, Eppa appeared in 692 games; hurled 4,494 innings; won 266, lost 251 for a percentage of .515; fanned 1,350; walked 1,082, and allowed 4,633 hits.

He spent the 1918 season in the Army as a Lieutenant in chemical warfare overseas.

He was named after a great aunt, Eppie Poindexter, changed to Eppa for the masculine.

The name Eppa suggested to a sportswriter the biblical name of Jeptha and he started calling Rixey "Eppa Jeptha".

There never was a more liked and admired player by his teammates and opponents than this big, drawling Virginian.

Rival players attempted to get his goat by whistling "Marching Through Georgia".

"I never tried to hit a man," he reflects, "but I sure used to loosen them up when they did that. Then they would quit."

The well educated, cultured Rixey makes his home in Cincinnati where he operates a successful insurance business.

Cincinnati fans, as well as those in other National League towns, feel that this great hurler is truly deserving of a spot in the Hall of Fame.

Redlegs Copped First N.L. Pennant in 1919

Ruether Led League Pitchers; Roush Led Batters

Cincinnati won its first National League pennant in 1919 with Pat Moran guiding the Rhinelander to the flag in his first season as manager of the Redlegs.

It wasn't the Redlegs first pennant. Cincinnati won the first professional championship before the advent of organized ball when it went through the season of 1869 without a defeat as they made a nation-wide tour. Cincinnati also won the first championship in 1882 of the old American Association, which was the American League of that day.

Eddie Roush won the 1919 league batting crown with a mark of .321 in 133 games. Pitcher Walter Ruether posted the best winning percentage of all National League hurlers in 1919 with a .760 percentage, the result of his 19-6 record.

Pitcher Hod Eller of the Redlegs notched a no-hit game at Cincinnati against St. Louis on May 11. Score was 6-0. Eller won 10 straight that season and hurled 22 consecutive scoreless innings.

The Redlegs went on to win the World Series from the Chicago White Sox, five games to three. The series had been increased to nine games for the first time.

Eller won two Series games; Ruether, Jim Ring and Harry Salee each one.

JOHNNY TEMPLE BATS .307

First Second Baseman Since Cuccinello To Bat Over Three Hundred

Johnny Temple, a hustling, aggressive, 25-year-old firebrand, became the first regular Redleg second baseman to bat over three-hundred since Tony Cuccinello turned the trick with a mark of .314 in 1931.

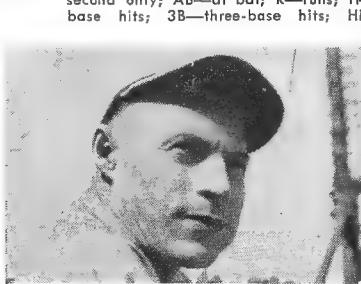

Only four regular Redleg second sackers have hit three-hundred or better for a season: John McPhee, on three occasions, in 1893-'94-'97; Heinie Pietz, 1902 (appeared in 104 games, but only 48 at second base); Hughie Critz, in 1924 (played in 102 games, with 96 at second), and Cuccinello, .314 in 1931.

BELL AND KLU HIT ALL-STAR HOMERS

Shown above (left to right) at the 1954 ALL-STAR GAME in Cleveland are Stan Musial, Duke Snider, Manager Walter Alston, Gus Bell and Ted Kluszewski. Kluszewski was the starting first baseman for the second consecutive year and hit a home run, a single, and had three runs-batted-in. Bell hit a two-run homer in a pinch-hitting role. Ray Jablonski, the new Redleg, was the starting third baseman in the game.

Opening Day "In Zinzinnati"

REDLEG INAUGURAL IS FESTIVE HOLIDAY IN QUEEN CITY

Opening Day in Cincinnati is a festive event that has captured national interest. In no other city is there the gala holiday spirit that prevails in the Queen City on "The Big Day."

Cincinnati is a traditional city. The solid, conservative folks have been brought up to observe the pageantry of Opening Day, and they do it with a seriousness that has preserved the unofficial holiday all these years.

Many cities are famed for their particular celebrations—New Orleans' Mardi Gras, Inauguration Day in Washington, New York's St. Patrick's Day Parade, etc.—but none is more universally accepted than Opening Day in the Rhineland.

The game is a perennial sellout. Large crowds are the result of the long-standing desire of the fans of Cincinnati and vicinity to keep alive the custom started years ago. There is an electric feeling in the air. Schools are dismissed early, offices are closed, and rabid rooters jam the city's streets.

The night before "The Game" is a memorable one in Cincinnati. On these pre-opening game nights, many clubs and organizations have parties or meetings, and individuals and groups have their own get togethers. Guests from the nearby areas pour into town and give still more holiday atmosphere to the occasion. It is near dawn before the town goes to bed.

This tradition was inaugurated by our forefathers who were also responsible for the first professional team being formed in Cincinnati in 1869.

On the basis of Cincinnati's long standing position, the National League permits the Redlegs to begin their season at home each year. This makes Cincinnati's status distinctively unique and serves as a fitting reward to the sustained loyalty of Redleg fans.

The customary parade from Downtown and the march around the field by the members of the Findlay Market takes place the day of the game. Before the first ball is pitched, Powel Crosley, Jr., President of the Redlegs, is presented with an American flag and the manager receives a huge floral horseshoe among the many pre-game ceremonies.

Other cities have attempted to duplicate the Queen City's Opening Day but they have been unsuccessful. There is no substitute for genuineness. No promotion can create a duplicate of Cincinnati's Opening Day traditions.

The fans have made the local Opener what it is today—a unique baseball festivity unmatched anywhere. Most significant evidence of the importance placed on "The Game" by the fans is the manner in which the 30,000-odd tickets are swallowed up each November, six months before the event.

It all started back in 1876 when "Cherokee" Fisher hurled the Red Stockings to a 2-1 Opening Game victory over St. Louis and has been continuing annually except for a span from 1881 through 1889 when the Redlegs were not in the National League.

Of the 70 Openers, the Redlegs have won 32 and lost 38. The largest crowd ever to attend a Cincinnati Opener at Crosley Field was 35,747 in 1924 as the Redlegs edged Pittsburgh, 6-5.

In the 1954 Opener (Tuesday, April 13), Cincinnati outslugged Milwaukee, 9-8, as Wally Post's single with the bases loaded in the sixth was the winning blow, making Birdie Tebbetts' debut as manager a successful one.

Joe Nuxhall was the winner and Chet Nichols the loser. Jim Greengrass tied a National League record with four doubles. Attendance was 33,185.

All the Redleg Openers have been played in Cincinnati with the exception of the 1887 game. Heavy rainfall over a period of days washed out the Redlegs' entire Opening Series. The club finally took a boat trip to Louisville and opened the season with a game in the Falls City.

Waite Hoyt, the former pitching great who now broadcasts the Redlegs' games for the Burger Brewing Company, was the winning pitcher in the 1935 and 1936 Opening Games here as a member of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Probably the luckiest Opening Day for the Redlegs occurred in 1945 when they beat Pittsburgh, 7-6, in 11 innings. A home run hit by the Pirates' Jim Russell in the fifth with two on was called void. Frank Zak, on second base for the Pittsburgh club, had called time to tie his shoelace.

Bucky Walters didn't hear time called and pitched to Russell. Umpire Ziggy Sears called Russell back to the batter's box.

The stars of the game were Hod Lisenbee, a 44-year-old pitcher, who relieved Bucky, and center fielder Dain Clay.

Lisenbee pitched two scoreless innings, receiving credit for the win. Lisenbee never won another game the remainder of the season.

Clay drove in five runs, four of them with a bases-loaded homer. Clay never hit another home run that season. In fact, it was Clay's first home run in a three-year major league career.

Matty Schwab has been with the Redlegs since 1894 and has been in charge of Crosley Field since 1903. On January 13, 1954 the Ballplayers of Yesterday gave a Testimonial Dinner honoring Matty on his 50 years service as Crosley Field Park Superintendent. At that time President Warren Giles presented Matty with a gold lifetime pass to all National League Parks.

Hoyt as the pitching sensation of the 1921 World Series

THE 1955 season marks the fourteenth year of play-by-play broadcasting of the Cincinnati Redleg games for Waite Hoyt, one of the most able and popular announcers in the country.

The New York Giants' very fine announcer, Russ Hodges, writing in his Chesterfield column, recently said of Hoyt:

"Waite Hoyt is authoritative. When he makes a statement there is no doubt as to its accuracy. When Hoyt says it's so—the Cincinnati public goes by what he says. He gives a clean-cut description of the game, drawing a clear, positive picture for his listeners. His voice is really very fine. During the occasional lulls he dips into a vast store of baseball knowledge. His stories of associations with such immortals as Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, John McGraw and countless others are a delight for Waite's fans."

"When Waite Hoyt broadcasts, it is obvious that his entire heart and soul is with the Cincinnati team. He has been describing games there for thirteen years."

"One thing I'm positive about, is the fact that he is just as fine an announcer as he was a player," Hodges concludes.

This year the Redleg broadcast will be originated on radio over Station WSAI and the telecasts over station WCPO-TV.

The personable Hoyt entered the radio game following an illustrious 21-year pitching career in the major leagues during which time he won a total of 237 games and lost 182.

Born September 9, 1899 at Brooklyn, N. Y., Waite was one of the youngest players ever to sign a major league contract. As a 15-year-old sophomore at Erasmus Hall High School he signed with the New York Giants and finished the summer of 1915 pitching batting practice for them.

In May of 1916 he reported for his first professional job with Lebanon and also pitched for Hartford-Lynn that season. With the Giants as batting practice pitcher for two weeks that season, he was on hand for the Giants memorable 26-game winning streak.

As a 17-year-old in 1917 he trained with the Giants before hurling for Memphis and Montreal.

Waite pitched for Nashville and Newark in 1918 and with the Giants at the close of the season when he pitched one inning, fanning two of the three batters he faced. Only 18 at the time, he became known as the "Schoolboy Wonder".

The Giants had used three options on Hoyt and couldn't farm him out again and he was traded to Rochester for Ross Youngs and George Kelly.

Hoyt didn't report to Rochester because of differences and played independent ball with the Baltimore Dry Docks in a ship-yard league. One of his victims in an exhibition game (1-0), was the Cincinnati Redlegs in 1916.

He was invited to work out with the Red Sox and signed with them. He won his first Red Sox game and finished the '19 campaign with a 4-6 record.

In 1920 he shutout the Yanks and decisioned Washington and the Yankees again before an operation hospitalized him for thirteen weeks. He returned to diamond activity in a weakened condition and finished with a 6-6 mark. In December he was traded to the Yanks.

The six foot, 185 pounder won 19 and lost 13 in pitching the Yankees to the pennant in 1921.

In the Series, the 21-year-old Hoyt won two games from the Giants and lost the final game 1-0, on an error. He gave up two un-earned runs in the Series and tied Christy Mathewson's 1905 record of pitching 27 innings in one Series without allowing an earned run.

Waite won 19 games in 1922 as the Yanks copped the flag but lost in four straight to the Giants in the Series. He relieved in the first game and lost the third game.

The Yanks gained revenge in 1923 as they won four of six from the Giants. Hoyt had a 17-9 season mark and started the first World Series game.

ELLEN AND WAITE HOYT

In 1924 the young fireballer had an 18-13 record and followed with 11-14 in '25. His 16 triumphs in 1926 were instrumental in the Yanks winning another flag. In the memorable Series with the Cardinals, Hoyt fanned eight in winning the fourth game.

Waite and Jesse Haines were pitching opponents in the long-remembered seventh contest. Hoyt gave up three un-earned runs in the fourth and went out for a pinch-hitter in the bottom of the sixth with the Cards leading 3-2.

The Yanks loaded the bases in the seventh off Haines with Tony Lazzeri at bat. Grover Cleveland Alexander was brought in to pitch in one of the real nerve-throbbing moments of Series history. Lazzeri hit a vicious foul down the third base line and then fanned. "Alex" retired the Yanks the next two frames and the Cards won the Series.

Pitching for what he calls "the best of all Yankee teams" in 1927, Hoyt led the American League in pitching with 22 wins and seven defeats. The Bombers swept the Series from Pittsburgh in four straight. Hoyt won the first game.

He followed with another tremendous season in '28; winning 24, losing seven. The Yanks humbled the St. Louis Cards in the Series in four straight with Hoyt winning two games, making a total of six Series wins for the former "Schoolboy Wonder."

He was traded to Detroit, May 30, 1930 where he remained until June of 1931 when he donned a Philadelphia Athletics uniform.

Connie Mack's charges won the pennant that year but lost the Classic to the Cardinals in seven games as Pepper Martin ran wild with five stolen bases and a .500 batting average. Hoyt lost the fifth game, 5-1, to Bill Hallahan.

The Brooklyn Dodgers grabbed Hoyt in January of 1932 and in June he switched to Giant flannels.

Joining Pittsburgh in November

"The Schoolboy Wonder"

of 1932, Hoyt spent four full seasons (1933-'34-'35-'36) with the Bucs, becoming a Dodger again in June, 1937.

After appearing in 16 innings and six games in 1938 with the Flatbushers, he decided to call it quits. He hurled the balance of the season for the semi-pro Brooklyn Bushwicks before hanging up his glove.

Waite had appeared as a guest star on numerous radio shows during his playing days and in September of 1927 had a baseball program of his own over N.B.C. in New York. This experience convinced him that he would like to make a living from radio after his playing days were over.

A Wheatus' sponsored program over WNEW (1937-'38), called "Grandstand and Bandstand"; sports show on WNEW (1938-'39); M.C. of sports quiz on WMCA; a baseball preview prior to the play-by-play of the Yankee games over WABC (1939); and shows on WABC-WOR gave him the necessary experience.

On January 3, 1942 the Burger Brewing Company of Cincinnati brought Hoyt to the Queen City to do the play-by-play of the Redlegs games over WKRC, sponsored by Burger Beer.

In 1945 the broadcasts moved to WCPO.

When the Redlegs first began televising some games in 1948, Waite became the first commentator to broadcast baseball simultaneously over radio and television.

The Burger people signed him to a new five-year contract in 1951. In 1953 his very fine work led to his selection as the announcer for the All-Star game.

Named Cincinnati coach, April 14, 1955.

THIRD BASEMAN ROBERT HENRY (BOBBY) ADAMS

BORN December 14, 1921 at Tuolumne, California. BATS—Right. THROWS—Right. HEIGHT—5-10. WEIGHT—162. ANCESTRY—English. HOBBY—Bowling, music and golf. MARRIED Barbara Jeanne Lowary, March 10, 1944. Have two daughters and a son. WINTER ADDRESS—13112 East Katella Avenue, Anaheim, California.

Handsome Bobby Adams is one of the most popular players in the league.

Originally a second baseman, Adams switched to third base in the 1952 season, and quickly developed into one of the league's better performers.

Always a fast runner and a real hustler, Bobby was signed by Cincinnati in 1939 and was sent to Ogden where he batted .335.

His .356 mark at Ogden in 1940 aided that club in winning the pennant. Promoted to Class-A in 1941, Bobby belted Sally League hurling for a .348 figure for Columbia. He had 92 runs-batted-in.

His stellar play earned another promotion, this time to the triple-A Syracuse club. After a season there he went into the Army Air Force from October 1942 to November 1945. Returning to civilian life, Bobby joined the Redlegs for the 1946 campaign and has been with the Queen City nine ever since.

BUD PODBIELAN

PITCHER CLARENCE ANTHONY (BUD) PODBIELAN (Pod-BEEL-uhn)

BORN at Curlew, Washington March 6, 1924. BATS—Right. THROWS—Right. HEIGHT—6-2. WEIGHT—180. ANCESTRY—Slovakian. HOBBY—Golfing, hunting and fishing. MARRIED Mona Whitmore, July 25, 1949. Have two sons. WINTER ADDRESS—1320 Cryer Avenue, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Bud Podbielan (pronounced Pod-BEEL-uhn) has pitched both the 1953 and 1954 opening games for the Queen City nine.

Among his seven 1954 victories were three triumphs over the strong Brooklyn Dodgers.

Bud was a high school pitching sensation when only 15 and signed his first pro contract in 1940 but was released by Twin Falls before the Pioneer League season opened.

Two years later he inked a pact with Brooklyn's Santa Barbara club but entered the Army for three and a half years. It was 1946 before he was able to make his debut with that club and he had a 14-9 mark.

Advanced from Class C to Double-A the following campaign, Podbielan won 14 and lost eight for Ft. Worth (Texas League) and had a 2.38 ERA.

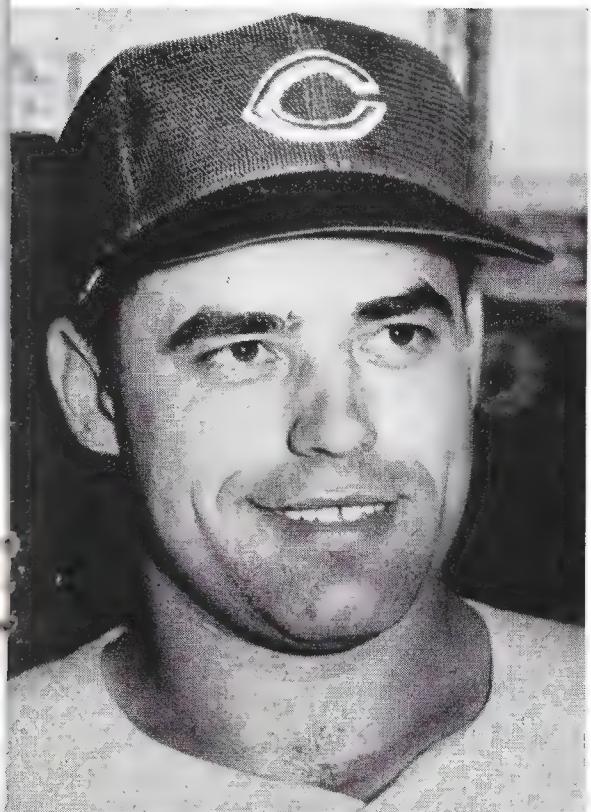

Podbielan was the winning pitcher in the 14-inning thriller that closed out the regulation 1951 season at Philadelphia. His win put the Dodgers in a playoff for the pennant with the Giants.

He hurled for the Pastora Club of Maracaibo, Venezuela, in the Occidental Winter League this past off-season.

CORKY VALENTINE

PITCHER HAROLD (CORKY) VALENTINE

BORN January 4, 1930 at Troy, Ohio. BATS—Right. THROWS—Right. HEIGHT—6-1. WEIGHT—203. ANCESTRY—German. SINGLE. HOBBY—Watching sports. WINTER ADDRESS—935 McKaig Avenue, Troy, Ohio.

Ernie White, former pitching great in the National League and presently the manager of the Redlegs' Columbia, South Carolina farm club, met Si Burick, Sports Editor of the Dayton News at the 1953 World Series.

"We had a boy on our Columbia Club this past summer (1953) from your neck of the woods," said White, "who, in my opinion, is only two years away at most from the big leagues and could make it in 1954. He's a kid out of Troy, Ohio; a powerful righthander named Corky Valentine. He's fast, has a good curveball and a changeup, but what I like best about him is his desire. Quite a competitor this Valentine on the mound and he'll battle when he's at the plate, too. He wants to pitch and he wants to win. When you find a kid with an attitude like that, with stuff and ability, too, you just have to figure he's a cinch to go all the way."

To say that White was a prophet is putting it mildly as Valentine successfully made the big jump from Class A to the majors with a big bang.

Valentine quickly won a starting job and elbowed 12 wins which tied him with Joe Nuxhall and Art Fowler for most Redleg wins. "Corky" led the Redleg mounds-men in shutouts with three.

"Corky is a very fine young pitcher," says Birdie Tebbetts. "It was amazing the way he improved since the beginning of the season. He pitched great ball and had some tough losses, especially against Milwaukee. We are hoping Corky can be the bell cow of future Redleg staffs."

Valentine hurled for Muncie, Rockford, Sunbury and Ogden before going into the Army in 1951 and 1952. Returning with Columbia in 1953 he led the league in ERA with 2.11 as he won 13 and lost six.

Corky turned down numerous college football scholarships to sign with Cincinnati. He was a standout quarterback for Van Cleve High of Troy, Ohio.

ROY McMILLAN

JOAN, DAVID AND ROY McMILLAN

SHORTSTOP ROY DAVID (MAC) McMILLAN

BORN July 17, 1930 at Bonham, Texas. BATS—Right. THROWS—Right. HEIGHT—5-11. WEIGHT—161. ANCESTRY—Irish. HOBBY—Hunting and fishing. MARRIED Joan Lawrence, October 26, 1952. Have a son. WINTER ADDRESS—6842 Montgomery Road, Cincinnati, Ohio.

"Roy McMillan is one of the finest defensive shortstops I've seen in the last 20 years," declared Manager Birdie Tebbets. "He's one of the gamest and toughest players I've ever seen. We hope he'll be part of the nucleus of our future championship teams. Coach Dick Bartell did a fine job in improving Mac's batting. He's a good runs-batted-in man and his batting is continually improving."

McMillan and Temple were the main cogs in the Redlegs receling off 194 double-plays to tie the National League record set by Cincinnati in 1928 and 1931.

Mac led the league shortstops in putouts in 1954 (341); double-plays (129), and tied Johnny Logan for most total chances (839).

Leo Durocher labels McMillan "the best defensive shortstop in the game today." Eddie Stanky calls Roy "the best glove man around." Pie Traynor says "McMillan makes his own bounces. He's the only present-day shortstop who can do that."

Mac was induced to go to McKinney, Texas for the tryout camp the Tyler club (Redleg farm) was conducting. Jack Knott and Hack Miller were impressed with his fielding. He had never seen a curve ball before and it took some work on this phase before they signed him. The only game of hardball Roy had played before the tryout camp with a group of 10-year-olds who had put on a special game.

In high school he could palm a basketball and run the hundred in 10.2.

JERRY LANE

PITCHER JERALD HAL LANE

BORN February 7, 1927 at Windham, New York. BATS—Right. THROWS—Right. HEIGHT—6-0. WEIGHT—185. ANCESTRY—Irish. HOBBY—Meeting people. MARRIED Barbara Elrod, December 24, 1953. Have a son. WINTER ADDRESS—Ringgold, Georgia.

Jerry Lane is an intelligent worker, has the necessary pitching tools and is aggressive and nervy. He reminds me more of Johnny Sain as a pitcher than anyone I know," reported scout Paul Florence to Gabe Paul last summer.

Florence, one of the top scouts in baseball, is recognized as an authority in deciding when a player is ready to move into the majors.

Florence declared "Lane is a rugged righthander who uses an overhand delivery. He goes all-out to win. Talking to him, I found Jerry to be a real student of pitching craft. He works slowly and deliberately and has sound reasoning behind every pitch he delivers. He remembers each hitter and every pitch that is hit safely or harmfully off him. He's the type who will pitch perfectly to a club once he knows the hitters.

"Lane studied law and is intelligent. He has a live fast ball that moves well; a good curve which he can get over when he is behind the batter, and a good slider, plus control."

The energetic Redleg boss, heeding Florence's advice, lost no time in purchasing the contract of Lane from Chattanooga on August 7, 1954 for later delivery.

Lane appeared in three games with the 1954 Redlegs. He pitched 11 innings in relief, winning one against no reverses, giving up two runs for a fine 1.64 earned-run-average. With Chattanooga in 1954 his excellent 2.79 ERA was third best in the league.

After serving as a Boatswain in the Navy from 1946 to 1948, in such campaigns as Okinawa and Iwo Jima, Lane began his pro career in 1948 with Bluefield.

Lane graduated in 1953 from Ithaca College with a B.S. Degree in Business Administration, having attended college during the off season from 1948 to 1953.

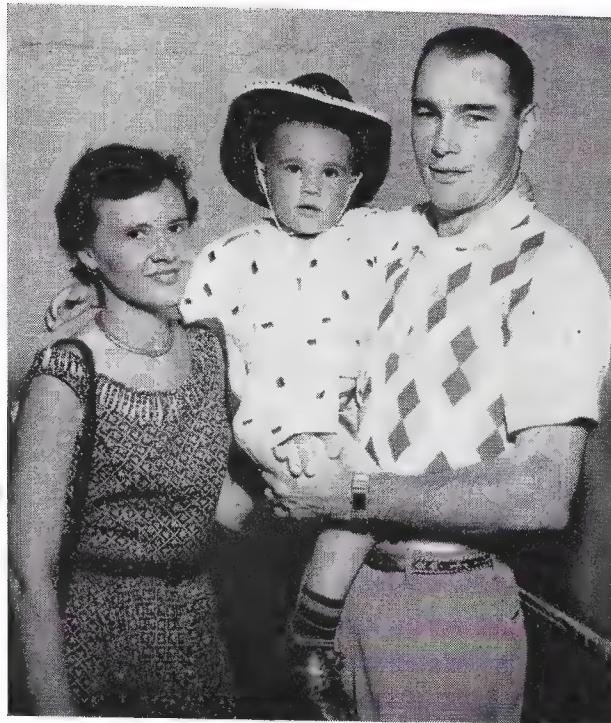

He was selected on All-Star teams in 1950, 1951 and 1953.

After his baseball days are over, Jerry would like to raise beef cattle.

JOHNNY TEMPLE

BECKY, MIKE AND JOHNNY TEMPLE

SECOND BASEMAN JOHN ELLIS TEMPLE

BORN August 8, 1929 at Lexington, North Carolina. BATS—Right. THROWS—Right. HEIGHT—5-11. WEIGHT—154. ANCESTRY—German. HOBBY—Hunting. MARRIED Becky Sheely, September 5, 1949. Have a son. WINTER ADDRESS—28 Earlwood Circle, Columbia, South Carolina.

"It was the most dramatic moment I've had since broadcasting the Redlegs games," declared Waite Hoyt, the former Yankee hurling great.

"Cincinnati won their protest of their 3 to 1 loss to Milwaukee on September 22 and were to return to Milwaukee from Chicago two days later to play it off with Bell on third, Escalera on second (running for Post), and two out in the top of the ninth, with Johnny Temple at bat."

"Just think," recalled the amazed Hoyt, "the kid had two days to think about it. The Redlegs could have come back from Chicago for just one pitch. It could have been the shortest broadcast of a game we ever had. We also had one of our biggest listening audiences for the replay."

"Temple was at bat as we began our broadcast. Temple slammed the first pitch to center for a single to tie it three-all. To me nothing has happened in my time on radio to match it for sheer drama and suspense. The fact that the Redlegs lost in the bottom half of the ninth doesn't detract from it. My previous top broadcasting thrill occurred when Ewell Blackwell tried for his second consecutive no-hitter."

Temple's action didn't surprise Redleg followers, difficult as it was, as his career is marked with incidents where he came through in difficult situations.

This past summer he suffered a severe injury as he was struck by a pitched ball over his left temple in a game with St. Louis on June 29 and it was feared he might have a serious injury.

On July 3 he made his next appearance at the plate, as a pinch-hitter, against Milwaukee and singled in the winning run.

Temple batted .307 for the 1954 Redlegs to become the first regular Redleg second baseman to hit .300 since Tony Cuccinello batted .314 in 1931.

Temple stole 21 bases (including home three times in first 21 games).

PITCHER GERALD LEE (GERRY) STALEY

BORN August 21, 1923 at Brush Prairie, Washington. BATS—Right. THROWS—Right. HEIGHT—6-0. WEIGHT—190. ANCESTRY—Scotch-Irish-English-German. HOBBY—Hunting and fishing. MARRIED Shirley Lockert, May 27, 1947. Have a son and daughter. WINTER ADDRESS—Route 6, Box 402-A, Vancouver, Washington.

The Redlegs obtained Gerry Staley December 8, 1954.

The 31-year-old Staley has been one of the league standout hurlers, winning 19 games in 1951; 17 in 1952, and 18 in 1953.

Staley had been a 20-game winner for two years at Boise when the St. Louis Cardinals' Sacramento club selected him in the annual winter baseball draft.

Sacramento, however, had to wait for another draft before they obtained his services, as he served with the Army Medical Corps from 1942 to 1945.

Meanwhile, the Cardinals sold the Sacramento club after the '43 season, but still maintained a limited working agreement. One provision gave the Cards the right to select and purchase one player within a three-year period.

Staley elbowed a 13-12 record for Sacramento in 1946 with a 2.94 E.R.A. and the St. Louis club chose Staley.

Staley started out in sandlot ball and high school as an infielder before switching to pitching.

Twice during his career with the Cardinals, Staley won two games in one day in the National League, from Chicago and Pittsburgh.

Staley has won 89 and lost 76 in the National League. He had a 12-3 record against Cincinnati; 19-10 against Chicago, and 16-12 against New York.

Gerry was selected on the National League All-Star teams of 1952 and 1953 but didn't see action.

JOE NUXHALL

PITCHER JOSEPH HENRY (JOE) NUXHALL (NUXX-all)

BORN July 30, 1928 at Hamilton, Ohio. BATS—Left. THROWS—Left. HEIGHT—6-3. WEIGHT—218. ANCESTRY—German. HOBBY—Reading and photography. MARRIED Donzetta Houston, October 4, 1947. Have two sons. WINTER ADDRESS—3935 Arlington, Hamilton, Ohio.

"I know some people call it a 'nickel curve ball' but the thing that helped me most was learning to throw a slider, stated Joe Nuxhall.

"Coach Tom Ferrick worked with me considerably and suggested that I practice on a slider," continued Joe.

Nuxhall elbowed a fine 12 won and five lost record during 1954. Joe walked only 59 while fanning 85 and completed five of the fourteen starts he had.

"Some people think a slider is just a bad curve ball but it is really an altogether different pitch," further explained Joe, who is the youngest hurler ever to appear in a major league game. Back on June 10, 1944, he pitched two-thirds of an inning against the St. Louis Cardinals, almost two months before his sixteenth birthday. He's 26 now.

"A curve ball breaks sharply and usually down and away," Joe disclosed. "A slider moves in on a batter, that is a lefthander's slider will move in on a righthanded batter. My fast ball usually moves away from the righthand hitters, so the slider moving in on him makes me much more effective."

Manager Birdie Tebbets believes "Joe can be one of the outstanding pitchers in the league. He's quite an all-around player; a good fielder, good hitter and a good competitor. Joe hit three homers this past season."

On July 30 Nuxhall's record was 4-3. Using his newly acquired slider from that time on, Joe won eight of his last ten decisions, Brooklyn being his victim on two occasions.

At Tulsa in 1951 he indicated he was curbing his tendency toward wildness as he walked but 102 men in 257 innings. Compare this with the 145 he issued free transportation to in 100 innings at Muncie in 1947. In 402 National League innings he has walked but 175 batters.

HERSH FREEMAN

PITCHER HERSELL BASKIN (HERSH) FREEMAN, JR.

BORN July 1, 1928 at Gadsden, Ala. BATS—Right. THROWS—Right. HEIGHT—6-2. WEIGHT—215. ANCESTRY—Irish-Indian. HOBBY—Art and Fishing. MARRIED Linnie Elysbeth Oakley, October 14, 1950. Have a son. WINTER ADDRESS—102-A 8th St., E. Gadsden, Ala.

The Cincinnati Redlegs purchased the contract of Hershell (Hersh) Freeman, 26-year-old righthanded pitcher, from the Boston Red Sox on May 10, 1955.

The 6-2, 215-pound Freeman started as an outfielder and became a hurler while playing Legion ball around Gadsden, Alabama. In high school he played football, baseball and basketball, but while attending the University of Alabama his chief interest was baseball.

Freeman, of Irish-Indian descent, won 18 and lost nine for Natchez in his first pro season of 1948 with a 2.35 ERA. He also won one and lost one for Birmingham that season. With Natchez he fanned 155 and walked but 52.

He followed with 8-6 for Scranton in 1949 and 9-5 for the same club in '50. In 1951 with Birmingham, Hersh made fifty appearances during the regular season and seven in the Southern Association Playoffs. He won 12 and lost five during the regular campaign.

Freeman won eight and lost seven for Louisville in 1952 as he compiled a 2.92 ERA in 38 games. He also appeared in four games for the Red Sox, winning his only decision.

In 1953 he participated in 18 games for the Red Sox (1-4) and in 28 games for Louisville (4-4). With Louisville in 1954 his record was 7-5 in 39 games with a fine 2.22 ERA.

Prior to coming with Cincinnati this season (1955) Freeman was in two games with the Red Sox; 1 1/3 innings; gave up one hit and no runs, walked one and fanned one with no decisions. He is married and has a three-year-old son.

JACKIE COLLUM

JACK AND BETTY COLLUM

PITCHER JACK DEAN (HALF COLLUM) COLLUM

BORN June 21, 1927 at Victor, Iowa. BATS—Left. THROWS—Left. HEIGHT—5-7. WEIGHT—163. ANCESTRY—Irish-German. HOBBY—Hunting. MARRIED Betty Jo Belles, January 5, 1947. Have two daughters and a son. WINTER ADDRESS—1125 Spring Street, Grinnell, Iowa.

"Coach Tom Ferrick had Jackie Collum add a knuckle-ball to his pitching repertoire and we think it will increase the effectiveness of his already great value to our club," revealed Manager Birdie Tebbetts.

"We had Jackie working on a knuckler all year and near the close of the season he really came up with a dandy," observed Ferrick. "Jackie has good breaking stuff and throws just about every pitch that has ever been thrown. Collum used a fast ball, curve, slider and screwball and we induced him into attempting to acquire a knuckler. He worked hard on it and came up with a dandy. It really has helped him a lot."

"Jackie's a little fellow but his heart is really bigger than he is. He's quite a battler out there."

Collum's 7-3 record (.700) was second to Joe Nuxhall's (12-5) .706 percentage among the Redleg hurlers. Collum appeared in 36 games, with two starts.

Collum's screwball is aided by an injury to his hand as a youngster.

"We were living on a farm near Grinnell, Iowa and they were putting hay in the loft," Jackie recalls. "My hand caught in the pulley and it practically ripped off a finger. I lost about an inch off the middle finger of my left hand and about half an inch off the index finger."

"I also have a scar on the right side of my neck from the accident. The rope running through the pulley pinned me against a pole. The pole had a big spike in it and it went through my jaw, just missing my jugular vein."

The little lefty was acquired from the Cardinals by the Redlegs for Eddie Erautt on May 23, 1953.

Highlighting Collum's career is a 24-2 record for St. Joseph in 1948; a two-hit shutout over the Chicago Cubs in his first major league start in 1951 with Cards; helped Rochester win Junior World Series in 1952, pitching a no-hitter against Ottawa (9-0) on September 5, 1952.

PITCHER FRED JOHN BACZEWSKI (Bah-JESS-skee)

BORN May 15, 1926 at St. Paul, Minnesota. BATS—Left. THROWS—Left. HEIGHT—6-2. WEIGHT—202. ANCESTRY—Polish. HOBBY—Aviation. MARRIED Marie Louise Kerr, June 9, 1952. Have a son. WINTER ADDRESS—1296 South Sycamore Avenue, Los Angeles, California.

Handsome Fred Baczewski, who was obtained, along with Bob Kelly, from the Cubs on June 13, 1953 in exchange for Bubba Church, has one of the best fast balls in the National League.

After spending the time from 1943 to '46 in the Army Air Force (as an Aviation Mechanic) he signed with Shreveport. Sent to Alexandria he became an immediate sensation, fanning 242 batters in 240 innings with 22 complete games and a 16-10 record. He notched a 2.10 ERA and registered seven shutouts. A combination outfielder-pitcher at the start he was soon made into a full-time pitcher.

He recorded a 16-3 combined record in 1948 with Anniston, Shreveport and Kilgore. Fred was acquired by Los Angeles, which paid its all-time high purchase price of $35,000 for his contract following the '49 campaign.

In 1950 he broke his left ankle and was out most of the season.

He split the 1952 year with Los Angeles and Shreveport. His 2.41 ERA with Shreveport was instrumental in that club winning the league playoffs. He was called up to the Cubs.

During his minor league career Fred fanned 747 batters in 1,051 innings. He received a watch as the "outstanding rookie pitcher in the spring training camp of the Cubs in 1953."

After joining the Redlegs in June of 1953, Baczewski elbowed a 11-4 record for Cincinnati.

TED KLUSZEWSKI

ROCKY BRIDGES

ROCKY BRIDGES' FAMILY

THEODORE BERNARD (TED) KLUSZEWSKI (Kluh-ZOO-skee)

BORN September 10, 1924 at Argo, Illinois. BATS—Left. THROWS—Left. HEIGHT—6-2. WEIGHT—236. HOBBY—Woodworking, golfing, fishing. ANCESTRY—Polish. MARRIED Eleanor Guckel, February 9, 1946. WINTER ADDRESS—5495 Hill and Dale Drive, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Ted Kluszewski really came into his own in 1954, leading the major leagues in runs-batted-in (141) and home runs (49).

He topped his teammates in most departments of batting. He tied with Gus Bell for most runs scored (104); made the most hits (187), total bases (368); homers (49); runs-batted-in (141); batting average (.326); base on balls (78); and slugging percentage (.642).

Ted set the following all-time Cincinnati slugging records: became the first Redleg ever to lead the majors in both homers and RBI's in the same season; set a new home run mark, 49; hit most homers at Crosley Field in one season, 34; most homers, one month, 13 (August); most homers in Redleg career, 163; most total bases, 368; most extra base hits, 80; most extra bases, 181; most runs-batted-in, 141; highest slugging percentage .642.

He was the starting first baseman in the All-Star game for the second consecutive year (homered in 1954 game); was named on The Sporting News All-Star Major League Team as the first baseman, and was runner-up for Most Valuable Player honors.

He finished the season in sensational style with 13 homers and 28 runs-batted-in during August and in September (22 games) had eight circuit blows, driving in 34 runs.

"Klu" topped the league first sackers in fielding for the fourth straight year with a .996 average. This equalled a major league record for consecutive seasons. Ted was tops in the league in double-plays participated in by a first sacker—166, and was in on the triple-play the Redlegs executed on August 27.

In his freshman year at Indiana University (1944) Ted played regular end and in 1945, Kluszewski led the Hoosiers to the Big Ten title and made the All-Big-Ten first team and numerous All-America squads.

Against Michigan in the first game, Ted tallied on a pass and kicked the extra point as Indiana downed the Wolverines, 13-7. Against Northwestern, Ted setup the tieing TD with a southpaw pass. Against Illinois, caught a TD pass after having had two called back because of infractions (once a dog on the field and the ref. had called time, and the other, Ted was beyond the end zone). He played 40 minutes against Tulsa and recovered a crucial fumble. Against traditional rival Purdue, he scored one TD and recovered a fumble on the Purdue one-yard line to set up another to give Indiana an undefeated season.

Klu had played only 20 high school games and 30 for the college nine before he entered pro ball. He succeeded Babe Young as the Redleg first baseman in 1948.

INFILDER EVERETT LAMAR (ROCKY) BRIDGES

BORN August 7, 1927 at Refugio, Texas. BATS—Right. THROWS—Right. HEIGHT—5-8. WEIGHT—170. ANCESTRY—German-Irish. HOBBY—Golf. MARRIED Mary Alway, July 25, 1951. Have a daughter. WINTER ADDRESS—223 Navara Drive, Long Beach, California.

"Rocky Bridges is a great utility man. His ability to play anywhere on the infield gives us tremendous defensive balance. We are very fortunate in having him as anyone on the infield could get hurt and we would be well protected with the 'Rock' taking over. The only reason he didn't play regular was the tremendous years McMillan and Temple had," says Manager Birdie Tebbets about Bridges.

Rocky is one of the best natured and best liked ball players in the major leagues. Bridges made his professional debut in 1947, near the close of the season, after sustaining a broken leg in spring training.

In 1951, he was with Brooklyn, playing practically all the infield positions. He spent the 1952 campaign with the Dodgers, except for five games he played for Montreal in an emergency.

CATCHER LONAS EDGAR (ED) BAILEY

BORN April 15, 1931 at Strawberry Plains, Tennessee. BATS—Left. THROWS—Right. HEIGHT—6-2. WEIGHT—204. ANCESTRY—Scotch-Irish. HOBBY—Hunting and fishing. MARRIED Betty Lou Carr, May 16, 1953. WINTER ADDRESS—2120 Berea, Knoxville, Tennessee.

In young Ed Bailey, strapping southpaw slugger, the Redlegs believe they have one of the future catching greats in the league.

"We didn't expect too much from Ed in his first season but he showed tremendous progress for a kid just getting his feet on the ground in the National League. Ed is an outstanding catcher and thrower. We think he'll be an important cog in our 1955 plans; a tremendous ballplayer from 1956 on," commented Manager Tebbets.

Bailey received a basketball scholarship to the University of Tennessee but withdrew after his freshman season. He was signed at a bonus figure by Paul Florence, Redleg scout, in November of 1949 at a time when Bailey was sought after by 13 major league clubs.

After his Army discharge in 1953 he caught for Tulsa where he belted 21 homers. He finished the '53 season with the Redlegs. In his first at-bat he hit a double off Bob Ruhl.

BORN March 16, 1930 at Decatur, Illinois. BATS—Left. THROWS—Right. HEIGHT—5-8. WEIGHT—170. ANCESTRY—Irish-Dutch-German. HOBBY—Hunting. MARRIED Peggy Higdon, April 23, 1948. Have a son and two daughters.

Hobie Landrith first attracted the attention of scouts in 1946 when he played in Esquire's annual All-American amateur game in Chicago.

As a freshman at Michigan State he won a numeral and was stamped first string varsity catcher for 1949 when he decided to cast his lot with the pros.

The personable youngster broke his ankle in the opening game of the 1950 season with Tulsa. He joined the Redlegs in the final stages of recuperation in July as bull pen receiver and made such a fine impression he was placed on Cincinnati's active list on July 29, seeing action in four games.

OUTFIELDER AARON ALBERT (AL) SILVERA

BORN August 26, 1935 at San Diego, Cal. BATS—Right. THROWS—Right. HEIGHT—6-0. WEIGHT—180. ANCESTRY—Jewish. HOBBY—Watching sports. SINGLE. WINTER ADDRESS—8318 W. 4th St., Los Angeles, Cal.

The Cincinnati Redlegs signed Al Silvera, 19-year-old Los Angeles youngster, at a bonus figure, to a Cincinnati Redleg contract on June 3, 1955.

Silvera became the first Cincinnati bonus player under the existing rule and must remain with the Redlegs for two seasons.

The sensational youngster, son of Albert and Victoria Silvera, was born in San Diego where he played sandlot ball as an infielder. The Silvera family migrated to Los Angeles in time for Al to attend Fairfax High School there. He was a pitcher-outfielder for the baseball team; tailback, passer and punter on the football team and ran the sprints for the track team.

He was named All-City in football his senior year. He was All-City as an outfielder for the baseball team his last two years and in his senior year he batted .502 and was named as "City of Los Angeles Baseball Player of the Year," before graduating in 1954.

Silvera, who is extremely fast, played for the University of Southern California freshman team this year (1955). In 45 games he batted .405 with 14 home runs, five of which were grand slams.

The youngster finished his schooling, taking his finals for his first two college semesters before joining the Redlegs at Philadelphia.

Silvera was signed by Redleg scout Bobby Mattick amidst competition from all the major league clubs with ten of the clubs actively engaged in the bidding for his services.

GUS BELL

OUTFIELDER DAVID RUSSELL (GUS) BELL
 BORN November 15, 1928 at Louisville, Kentucky. BATS—Left. THROWS—Right. HEIGHT—6-2. WEIGHT—195. HOBBY—Watching sports. ANCESTRY—Irish-English. MARRIED Joyce Sunderland, December 4, 1949. Have three sons and a daughter. WINTER ADDRESS—5576 Fairwood Road, Mt. Airy, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Cincinnati had the first professional baseball club in America—the Red Stockings of 1869, and were charter members of the National League when it was formed in 1876.

The Redlegs have had a long and colorful history but it wasn't until a handsome youngster named Gus Bell arrived on the scene that the Rhinelander could boast of an outfielder who had driven in 100 runs in one season.

The Queen City nines have had some great outfielders such as Edd Roush, Ival Goodman, Pat Duncan, Harry Heilmann, Chick Hafey, Hank Sauer, Babe Herman, Tommy Griffith, Curt Walker and many others, but none had been able to reach the century mark in chasing runners across the plate.

Bell has accomplished this feat in both his seasons as a member of the Redlegs.

Gus, a model youth, was obtained from the Pittsburgh Pirates October 15, 1952, in exchange for Joe Rossi, Gail Henley and Cal Abrams.

During the 1953 season, his first with the Redlegs, Gus played 151 games, scored 102 runs, had 30 homers, drove in 105 runs, batted an even .300 and had a slugging percentage of .525.

In 1954 he appeared in 153 games for the Redlegs, scored 104 runs, drove in 101 runs and compiled a .299 batting mark. He was picked on the All-Star team for the second straight year and hit a pinch-hit homer.

What does Bell attribute his increased batting figure to?

"I'm happy in Cincinnati where I've been treated very well, and I've changed the grip on my bat," Gus said.

"Since coming to Cincinnati I've choked up on the bat about an inch. I was always told you had to get down on the end of the bat to get the long ball. But by choking a little the bat feels better balanced, I get the bat around quicker and can control it with a better wrist snap—and I can hit the ball just as far."

JOE BLACK

PITCHER JOSEPH (JOE) BLACK

BORN February 8, 1924 at Plainfield, N. J. BATS—Right. THROWS—Right. HEIGHT—6-2. WEIGHT—225. ANCESTRY—American Negro. HOBBY—Photography. MARRIED Doris M. Sounders, October 22, 1947. Have two children. WINTER ADDRESS—102 Decatur St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

The Redlegs purchased Joe Black from Brooklyn on June 9, 1955.

Black hurled Brooklyn to the pennant in 1952 as he time-after-time came out of the bullpen to choke off enemy rallies. Joe won 15 games that year and saved fifteen more. He appeared in 56 games, to set a Brooklyn record, hurling 142 innings while compiling a 2.15 ERA. He lost only four times. Black beat Allie Reynolds and the Yankees in the first game of the World Series of '52. His phenomenal hurling earned him the "Rookie of the Year" award.

In 1953 he appeared in 34 games with Brooklyn, 73 innings, had a 6-3 record and saved five more games. He appeared in one game of the 1953 Series.

In five games with the 1954 Dodgers he had no record. He won 12, lost 10 for Montreal in 31 games the same season.

Black was obtained by Brooklyn, along with Junior Gilliam, from the Baltimore Elite Giants of the Negro League at the end of the 1950 season.

Joe hurled for Montreal (7-9) and St. Paul (4-3) in 1951.

He wasn't on the varsity roster in the spring of 1952 but his hurling so impressed Dodger officials he was moved up to the Brooklyn club and he went on to elbow his great season.

Black's lifetime record in the major leagues shows 21 wins against only seven losses.

Joe is a graduate of Morgan State College (Bachelor of Science Degree, 1950) where he starred in football, basketball and track (they didn't have a baseball team.)

WALLY POST

THE WALLY POSTS

OUTFIELDER WALTER CHARLES (WALLY) POST

BORN July 9, 1929 at St. Wendelin, Ohio. BATS—Right. THROWS—Right. HEIGHT—6-1. WEIGHT—200. ANCESTRY—German-Irish. HOBBY—Watching sports. MARRIED Pat Beckman, January 29, 1949. Have three daughters and a son. WINTER ADDRESS—St. Henry, Ohio.

Only 17 players in the National League batted in 80 or more runs during the 1954 season. The Redlegs had four: Kluszewski, 141; Bell, 101; Greengrass, 95, and Post 83. With the addition of Jablonski, 104; have a fifth for 1955.

Twenty-five-year old Wally Post drove in 83 runs and went to bat only 451 times. The quiet, modest youngster drove 18 home runs out of National League parks.

Post prepped at Indianapolis in 1953 under Birdie Tebbetts. His sensational season there included driving in 120 runs in 133 games (led the league) and was runner-up for home run honors with 33. He was selected on the All-Star team.

He was named on the International League's All-Star team in 1951 with Buffalo.

Wally launched his baseball career as a pitcher with Middletown in 1946. He displayed good mound prospects until Columbia manager "Gee" Walker observed even greater potentialities in his bat in 1948.

Manager Tebbetts believes "Post has one of the most accurate arms in baseball. He has tremendous power and is a remarkable runs-batted-in man and does okay as a fielder." Wally led the Texas League in assists (29) in 1950 and the International League (26) in 1951.

During the off-season Wally works with his father-in-law, Luke Beckman, and two brothers-in-law in their Minster Canning Company at St. Henry, Ohio.

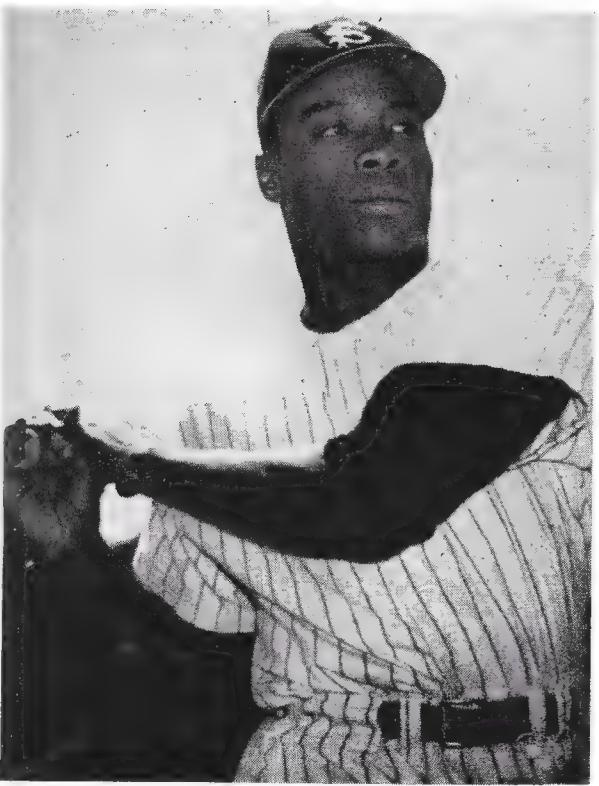

They can about 60,000 cases of tomatoes a year and grow everything on their 600-acre farm. They also make Beckman's Genuine Turtle Soup.

BOB THURMAN

OUTFIELDER ROBERT BURNS (BOB) THURMAN

BORN May 14, 1923 at Wichita, Kansas. BATS—left. THROWS—Left. HEIGHT—6-1. WEIGHT—205. ANCESTRY—Negro. MARRIED Dorothy McAfee, August 14, 1947. Have two daughters and a son. WINTER ADDRESS—222 Plymouth Avenue, San Francisco.

Gabe Paul and Birdie Tebbetts were making a tour of the winter league this past off-season and in this instance they were watching the Santurce club of the Puerto Rican League perform.

"Who's that guy?" asked Tebbetts after seeing big Bob Thurman hit a couple of terrifically long foul balls. A few seconds later Thurman "hit a ball as far as I've ever seen one go," recalled Paul. "Birdie watched him play a couple of other games, and then we went after him. Birdie signed him himself."

Thurman was in the Army from 1941 to 1946 before joining the Homestead Grays of the Colored League for the '46 season. The fabulous Josh Gibson played on that club and would introduce the young Thurman as "a kid who can knock that ball as far as I can." After the 1946-'47-'48 seasons he went with the Kansas City Monarchs for a half season before the Yankees signed him for organized ball with Newark, July 29, 1949. In his first game he reportedly hit the longest homer in Newark in 30 years; a blast that was supposed to have traveled some 430 feet over the center field fence. He hit three over that fence that season and only one person hit one over the same barrier in the previous 50 years. Later in the season, playing at Buffalo, he belted one over the center field wall; a drive of some 450 feet. Bob batted .317 for Newark in the International League that year. In 1951 he became the first negro to play for San Francisco.

Thurman was supposed to play for Charleston (A.A.) in 1953 but decided to take a lucrative offer to play in the Dominican Republic League. By so doing, Thurman became ineligible for the winter league in Puerto Rico and Cuba which fall under the jurisdiction of organized ball. To regain his eligibility, Thurman purchased his own contract from Charleston for $4,000.

An outfielder, Thurman can also play first base and pitch.

ART FOWLER

RUDY MINARCI

PITCHER JOHN ARTHUR (ART) FOWLER

BORN on July 3, 1923 at Converse, South Carolina. BATS—Right. THROWS—Right. HEIGHT—5-11. WEIGHT—180. ANCESTRY—Irish. HOBBY—Fishing and hunting. MARRIED Ruth Burch, January 24, 1942. Have two sons and a daughter. WINTER ADDRESS—Converse, South Carolina.

"Art did a real fine job for us," declared Birdie Tebbetts concerning the 1954 hurling of rookie Art Fowler. "He was especially effective against the front line clubs. His won-lost record could be four more wins and four less losses with better breaks. We expect him to continue to be a big help in 1955."

Fowler, in his freshman year of 1954, had a 12-10 record for the Redlegs. Art tied with Joe Nuxhall and Corky Valentine for the most wins on the staff; made the most starts (29); had the most complete games (8); most strikeouts (91), and the most innings pitched (228).

He was picked on The Sporting News Major League All-Rookie team.

Fowler has all pitches with a very fine slider and knuckler. Uses a short-arm delivery and is sneaky fast; has control and is a real battler.

General Manager Gabe Paul saw Fowler pitch for the Crackers in an exhibition game April 5, 1953. He had received glowing reports on Fowler's ability from Redleg scout Paul Florence and was curious about the righthander.

He witnessed Art hurling a terrific game to beat the Yankees. Furman Bisher, Atlanta baseball writer, waxed enthusiastically about Art's hurling and kept reminding Paul by mail about Art's potentialities.

Scout Florence continued to trail Fowler in the Southern Association and recommended his purchase.

Fowler broke into pro ball with Bristol in 1944 (13-6 record) and moved up to Danville in 1945 where he won 23 and lost six. He won four more in the playoffs. In 30 games, he started 28 and pitched 27 complete games, compiling a 2.56 ERA to earn a trial with the Giants the following spring.

He first joined Atlanta in 1949 (7-6) and was taken up by the Braves after he captured 19 wins for Dixie Walker's Cracker champions in 1950.

Art was 16-10 for Atlanta in 1952 before posting his league leading 3.03 ERA with the Crackers in 1953 as he won 18, lost 10.

PITCHER RUDY ANTHONY MINARCI (Min-r-sin)

BORN March 25, 1930 at North Vandergrift, Pennsylvania. BATS—Right. THROWS—Right. HEIGHT—6-0. WEIGHT—195. ANCESTRY—Slovak. HOBBY—Fishing and football. SINGLE. WINTER ADDRESS—177 Lincoln Avenue, No. Vandergrift, Pennsylvania.

Rudy Minarcin, blond, blue-eyed right-hander, posted a brilliant eleven won and two-lost record for Toronto last season.

Toronto manager Luke Sewell believes that "Minarcin, who was an important cog in our winning the International League pennant, has an excellent chance of making the grade with Cincinnati. Rudy was hampered by a knee injury at the beginning of the season but turned in a terrific job for us after the injury healed. He has the necessary equipment and is very aggressive on the mound. Rudy has a natural sinker."

Rudy was signed as a bonus-player by the Philadelphia Phillies in 1948 as a 17-year-old.

His seven wins against seven losses aided his home town Vandergrift team to win the Middle Atlantic League pennant in '48.

After a 6-11 season at Utica in 1949 he was obtained by the Cincinnati Redlegs, being drafted off the Toronto roster at the '49 major league draft meeting.

Minarcin came into his own with the Redlegs' Tulsa club in 1950, winning 13 against seven losses and an ERA of 2.86. He hurled a one-hit shutout for Tulsa against Dallas August 20, 1950.

His 16 wins for Buffalo earned him selection to the 1951 International League All-Star team. He entered the Army in February of 1952 and was discharged in February of 1954.

TOM ACKER

PITCHER THOMAS JAMES (TOM) ACKER

BORN at Paterson, N. J. on March 7, 1930. BATS—Right. THROWS—Right. HEIGHT—6-4. WEIGHT—210. ANCESTRY—Dutch. HOBBY—Hunting. MARRIED Gertrude Unger December 28, 1952. WINTER ADDRESS—13-16 Third Street, Fair Lawn, New Jersey.

After being in the Army from October 1951 to October of 1953, big Tom Acker pitched for the Tulsa Oilers in 1954 and compiled a 7-8 record despite being plagued with injuries at the beginning of the season.

In 101 innings with the Oilers he fanned 102 men while walking only 70.

The likeable Acker has one of the most amazing physiques in baseball, looking like a combination of Charles Atlas and Leon Hart.

Tom pitched three years for the Fair Lawn, New Jersey High School Team and played one year of semi-pro ball before joining Oskosh in 1948. In the half season with the New York Giant farm club, Acker had a 3-6 record and with the same club the following campaign notched a fine 14-7 record, fanning 213 in 201 innings, walking only 76.

Moved up to Knoxville of the Class B Tri-State loop in 1950, Tom won six and lost three, appearing in 42 games and 132 innings. The big fire-baller fanned 140 and walked only 67 and had a fine 3.07 ERA.

He was drafted by Buffalo and won 10 and lost 13 for that club in 1951.

He played on pennant winners at Oskosh in 1949 and Knoxville in 1950.

PITCHER CLIFFORD DAVID (CLIFF) ROSS

BORN August 3, 1928 at Philadelphia, Pa. BATS—Left. THROWS—Left. HEIGHT—6-4. WEIGHT—185. ANCESTRY—Irish-German. HOBBY—Automobiles. MARRIED—Dolores McIlwain. Have a daughter. WINTER ADDRESS—109 South Eastern Road, Glenside, Pennsylvania.

If fire-balling Cliff Ross becomes a winning pitcher for the Cincinnati Redlegs, an assist will have to be chalked up for psychology.

A lesson in psychology, with himself as the teacher, made Ross the best southpaw pitcher in the Eastern League last summer.

Ross was sent to Schenectady and he took himself aside and asked, "What's wrong, anyway?"

He wanted to know why a pitcher with everything—size, speed, stuff, determination wasn't winning more games.

And then dawned the trouble. He was worried about walking batters. "I knew my control wasn't the best, and I used to worry about base on balls hours before each game," he relates. "That worrying got me so edgy I'd walk the ball park anyway. So this day I said the heck with the worrying. It isn't doing me any good, that's for sure. I'm just going to throw the ball in hereafter. If it goes over the plate, OK; if not, so what?"

With that attitude came relaxation, improved control and a 13-10 record for a club buried hopelessly in last place and a recall to the Redlegs.

The 26-year-old Ross was selected on the Eastern League Managers' All-Star team.

Ross, unquestionably, can throw as hard as any hurler in the National League, but, like most speed-ballers, was plagued with wildness, until this summer.

Cliff appeared briefly with Lockport in 1947 and in his first pro game fanned fourteen while walking ten.

Ross found himself in 1950 at Ogden, winning 10 and dropping eight. Among his wins were two no-hitters in the space of 13 days. Still troubled by his base on balls bugaboo, he fired the third strike past 198 batters in 143 innings while walking 204.

Cliff entered the Army in December of 1950. Pitching for the Eusakers in the Korean League, he won 12 and lost one; averaging 13 strikeouts per game. He notched a no-hitter and two one-hitters.

He trained in 1953 with the Redlegs where he impressed everyone with his blazing fast ball.

Optional to Tulsa, Ross made tremendous strides in improving his control. In 122 innings he walked 84.

This past summer Cliff joined the Redlegs on September 8 and pitched in four games in relief against New York, Pittsburgh, Brooklyn and Milwaukee. He didn't allow a hit nor a run, and best of all, didn't walk a batter.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts was impressed with Ross' work. "It looks as if Cliff has curbed his wildness. He has all the equipment and he could make the jump to the majors," asserted Tebbetts.

CHARLEY HARMON

THE CHARLEY HARMONS

OUTFIELDER STANLEY FRANCIS (STAN) PALYS (PAY-liss)

BORN May 1, 1930 at Blakely, Pa. BATS—Right. THROWS—Right. HEIGHT—6-0. WEIGHT—187. ANCESTRY—Polish. SINGLE. WINTER ADDRESS—225 5th St., Blakely, Pa.

Stan Palys (pronounced PAY-liss) came to the Redlegs on April 30 from the Philadelphia Phillies. Palys, 25 years old on May 1, 1955, has been labeled a "can't miss prospect."

The husky, six-foot, 187-pound long-ball hitter from the hard-coal region of Blakely, Pa., was originally a third baseman but was converted into an outfielder after turning professional.

Palys, a righthander, broke into organized baseball with Carbondale (N. Atlantic League) in 1950 and batted .318.

Stan went on the National Defense List in September of 1950 and was reinstated, after his military discharge, on May 2, 1952.

Coming out of the service during the '52 season, he batted .270 for Terre Haute of the Three-Eye League with 74 runs-batted-in in 99 games. In 1953 he hit .331 for Spokane of the Class A Western International League, with 22 homers and 95 runs-batted-in. He also saw service briefly that year with Schenectady and the Phillies.

Last summer (1954) Palys performed in 23 games for Syracuse, and in 93 games with Schenectady batted .316. He also played in two games with the Phillies. He is a bachelor.

PITCHER JAMES GLADDEN (JIM) WILLIS

BORN March 20, 1927 at Dayline, Louisiana. BATS—Left. THROWS—Right. HEIGHT—6-3. WEIGHT—175. ANCESTRY—Scotch-Irish. HOBBY—Hunting and fishing. MARRIED Dixie James, July 12, 1949. Have a son and daughter. WINTER ADDRESS—Highway 20, Boyce, Louisiana.

Jim Willis was an All-Gulf State Conference performer in basketball and baseball at Northwestern State College at Natchitoches, Louisiana, and a miler and javelin thrower on the track team, before graduating in 1951 with a bachelor's degree in physical education. Jim was signed off the campus by Shreveport.

In 1952 he hurled Shreveport to a Texas League playoff pennant. He and Fred Baczenski were the clutch pitchers for the club. Willis was named on the Texas League All-Star team.

Drafted by the Chicago Cubs from Shreveport after the '52 season, Jim was sent to Springfield but returned in July. Pitching fine relief ball he was rewarded with his first starting assignment on September 6 and defeated Cincinnati.

JIM PEARCE

SMOKY BURGESS

PITCHER JAMES MADISON (JIM) PEARCE

BORN June 9, 1925 at Zebulon, North Carolina. BATS—Right. THROWS—Right. HEIGHT—6-6. WEIGHT—170. ANCESTRY—Irish. HOBBY—Hunting. MARRIED Sylvia Brady, September 12, 1950. Have a son and daughter. WINTER ADDRESS—Zebulon, North Carolina.

"He's a twin for Ewell Blackwell if I ever saw one," declared various members of the Redlegs team as they watched lanky Jim Pearce hurl.

Both stand six feet, six inches but Blackwell's 195 pounds was more than the 170 carried by Pearce.

Pearce received his baptism with the Redlegs on September 14 in relief role against Brooklyn and shutout the easterners in two rounds.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts rewarded this fine effort with a starting assignment against Milwaukee.

He allowed the powerful Braves just four hits and an unearned run as he won 3-1. Jim walked four and fanned three.

"Did you see the way he reached back for that little something extra when he was in those jams?" Birdie asked.

Jim broke into pro ball in 1944 with the Chicago Cub organization and moved to the Washington farm system in 1949.

CATCHER FORREST HARRILL (SMOKY) BURGESS

BORN February 6, 1927 at Caroileen, N. C. BATS—Left. THROWS—Right. HEIGHT—5-8. WEIGHT—180. ANCESTRY—English. MARRIED Margaret Head, July 21, 1945. Have a son. WINTER ADDRESS—Route 1, Box 140, Rutherfordton, N. C.

Smoky Burgess came to the Redlegs from Philadelphia April 30, 1955. Burgess was the 1954 unofficial National League batting champion with a fine .368 batting figure. The official batting title went to Willie Mays who batted .345 under the rule that requires the leading hitter to go to bat at least 400 times. Smoky was in 108 games with 345 times at bat and didn't qualify for the official crown.

He was discovered while playing American Legion baseball in North Carolina. Legend has it that in three seasons of Legion ball he batted around .780. It is also said that with the Shelby, N. C. Legion team in 1943, as a 16-year-old, Burgess connected for 21 straight hits over a season of 25 to 30 games of Legion ball and batted over .700.

Burgess hit .325 in his first year of pro ball (1944) with Lockport, and hit .400 for Portsmouth in 12 games in 1945 before going into the Army during 1945-46. He was pinned under a jeep in an Army accident.

In 1947 he led the Tri-State League in batting with Fayetteville with .387.

In 1948 he hammered out a .386 mark for Nashville to lead the Southern Association hitters.

Burgess was with Chicago for 46 games in 1949. He was used chiefly as a pinch hitter; catching in eight games. He was with Los Angeles for 19 games the same season.

With Springfield as a catcher the entire 1950 season, he batted .327 to move up to Chicago for the 1951 campaign. After the season with the Cubs he was traded on October 4, 1951, along with Bob Borkowski, to the Redlegs, for John Pramesa and Bob Usher. Approximately two months later, the Redlegs sent Burgess, along with Howie Fox and Connie Ryan to the Phillies for Niles Jordan, Andy Seminick, Eddie Pellagrini and Dick Sisler on December 10, 1951.

Smoky was selected on All Star team in the Pony League (1944) and the Southern League (1948). He caught in the 1954 All Star game for the National League.

JOHN KLIPPSTEIN

STEVE RIDZIK

PITCHER JOHN CALVIN KLIPPSTEIN (KLIPP-stine)

BORN October 17, 1927 at Washington, D. C. BATS—Right. THROWS—Right. HEIGHT—6-1. WEIGHT—175. ANCESTRY—German-Scotch-English-Indian. HOBBY—Fishing and hunting. MARRIED Mary Ann Artac, October 11, 1953. Have a daughter. WINTER ADDRESS—5049 North Ottawa Avenue, Chicago 31, Illinois.

Johnny Klippstein, fireballing young righthander, was obtained from the Chicago Cubs September 30, 1954 along with Jim Willis.

Baseball men, who have been predicting real stardom for Klippstein, feel the Redlegs may have acquired a real sleeper in the ex-Cub. His 4-11 record for 1954 is considered misleading. Two of his wins were over New York, both complete games, a six and a three-hitter. Some of his best work was in relief. During one span of 22 innings of relief work, Klippstein allowed just three earned runs.

Klippstein played Legion ball and high school ball at Silver Spring, Maryland, mostly as an outfielder. Scouts turned him down "because he didn't have enough power nor speed." He was told to forget about making a career of baseball.

But Johnny, determined to enter pro ball, turned to pitching. While visiting an uncle in Appleton, Wisconsin in the fall of 1943 he attended a Cardinal tryout camp there was signed the following spring.

In 1945 he started with Allentown and wound up at Winston-Salem where he had a fine 2.48 earned-run-average; second-best in the league.

Klippstein next entered the Army.

The Brooklyn organization obtained him when Mobile drafted him off the Lynchburg roster in the fall of '48.

He made a fine comeback and enjoyed his best season with Mobile; first year he spent an entire campaign with one club. He had a 15-8 record and a 2.95 ERA and hurled a one-hitter. Johnny was selected on the All-Star team.

The Cubs drafted Klippstein from the Montreal roster and he went to the Cubs in 1950.

Johnny is a nephew by marriage of Dutch Leonard, the former knuckleball hurler . . . won his first major league game when he homered on July 19, 1950 off Bob Chapman against the Boston Braves.

PITCHER STEVEN GEORGE (STEVE) RIDZIK (RID-zick)

BORN April 29, 1929 at Yonkers, N. Y. BATS—Right. THROWS—Right. HEIGHT—5-11. WEIGHT—170. ANCESTRY—Russian. HOBBY—Mystery stories. SINGLE. WINTER ADDRESS—18 Dunwoodie St., Yonkers, N. Y.

Steve Ridzik, handsome righthand hurler, came to the Redlegs from the Philadelphia Phillies on April 30, 1955.

Ridzik (pronounced RID-zick) was 26 years old on April 29. The 5-11, 170-pound fireballer was a shortstop and played the outfield before entering high school in Yonkers, N. Y. The high school team needed a pitcher and Steve volunteered. He was quite a success in scholastic circles, contributing eighteen victories and losing only twice.

Signed by the Phil organization as a 16-year-old, Steve broke in with Greensboro in 1945.

During his first spring training trip with the Phillies in 1950 he sustained a broken kneecap in process of delivering a pitch in Phils intra-squad game and was hospitalized for six weeks. Optioned to Toronto following recovery and recalled the last month of season.

In the 1951 spring training season he pitched a no-hitter for Phils over the Cardinals in a nine-inning masterpiece. He hurled for Baltimore that year.

Steve is a bachelor of Russian descent. He is the youngest of seven children.

THIRD BASEMAN RAYMOND LEO JABLONSKI (Juh-BLONN-skee)

BORN December 17, 1926 at Chicago, Illinois. BATS—Right. THROWS—Right.
HEIGHT—5-10. WEIGHT—185. ANCESTRY—Polish. HOBBY—Sports, music, and dancing. MARRIED Dorothy Szczepanik, October 26, 1952. Have a son. WINTER
ADDRESS—4457 South Sacramento Street, Chicago, Illinois.

Ray Jablonski drove in 112 runs in 1953 and 104 in 1954 to become one of the few players ever to chase across a hundred runners in each of his first two seasons in the majors.

After serving in the Army from '45 to '47 he attended a tryout camp conducted by the Boston Red Sox. Ray was the only player signed from some 300 candidates.

Jablonski hit .326 for Milford (shortstop) after reporting in July of '47 and the following season batted .354 for runner-up honors and set a league record for base hits (172). Ray was picked on the Eastern Shore League All-Star team as an outfielder (83 in outfield; 39 at shortstop).

He was drafted off the Oneonta club's roster in the fall of 1948 by the Cardinals' Columbus, Georgia farm club.

With Columbus ('49) Ray set a Sally League record by committing only 16 errors in 136 games. He was named as the utility man on the All-Star team (101 at second base; 35 in outfield).

In 1950 with Lynchburg, Ray was picked on the Piedmont League All-Star team as an outfielder (100 in outfield; 18 at third base).

His manager at Lynchburg was Whitey Kurrowski the Cards' star third sacker of a few years back. Whitey suggested that Jablonski concentrate on third base as the St. Louis club needed a hot corner guardian.

In 1951 he was the Carolina League's most valuable player. He led the circuit in batting (.363) for Winston-Salem and also paced the league in hits, 200; total bases, 335; doubles, 45; and RBI's, 127. Ray also tied for homers (28) and was the loop's All-Star third baseman.

Promoted to Rochester in 1952 he was the International League's "Rookie of the Year."

His .299 mark aided the Red Wings in copping the league playoffs and Junior World Series. Hard hit by injuries, the club had to play Jablonski at all positions (66 at shortstop; 54 at third base; 27 on first base; 15 on second base, and outfield in emergencies). He drove in 103 runs and hit 18 homers.

Advanced to the Cardinals, he played 157 games at third, hit 21 homers (a St. Louis record for rookies), drove in 112 runs and was named on —The Sporting News All-Star major league rookie team.

This past season he was the starting third baseman in the All-Star game.

BORN June 30, 1931 at Weidman, Michigan. BATS—Left. THROWS—Left. HEIGHT—5-11. WEIGHT—186. ANCESTRY—German-Irish. HOBBY—Hunting and fishing. SINGLE. WINTER ADDRESS—Box 101, Weidman, Michigan.

"Although handicapped by illness for half the season, Don Gross pitched 189 innings for us this past season. I consider him the outstanding pitching prospect in the South Atlantic League and both Manager Ernie White and myself do not see how he can miss becoming a major league hurler in the near future," declared Bill McCarthy, President of the Columbia Reds.

In 1951 he led the Pioneer League hurlers with a sensational 1.11 ERA despite the fact that he was disabled for a short time.

Gross attended Michigan State for one year.

He played part of the off-season for the Vanytor team in Barranquilla, Colombia, South American (Colombian League).

Frank "Pop" Grayson, one of the most beloved and respected of all sportswriters during his 66 years as a newspaperman, including 25 covering the Redlegs for the "Times-Star", passed away on February 9, 1955 in his 82nd year. "Pop", who had retired, made the 1954 spring training trip with the Redlegs. He is pictured above, left to right, in 1954: Bobby Hicks, Tampa "Tribune"; Ritter Collett, Dayton "Journal"; Mr. Grayson, Cincinnati "Times-Star"; Tom Swope, Cincinnati "Post"; Lou Smith, Cincinnati "Enquirer"; and Si Burick, Dayton "News".

"MEET THE REDLEGS' FAMILIES" NIGHT

One of the top events of the season during 1954 at Crosley Field was "Meet the Redlegs' Families Night." The players, their wives and children were called out at home plate and introduced individually and all received gifts from the Redleg management. On the picture, note the "MOON DECK" sign in what was formerly known as the bleachers. For day games a "SUN DECK" sign is used.

STAN MUSIAL

"A PLAN FOR EVERY FAN" is the slogan adopted by the Redlegs. The feature of the plans is the guarantee of an opening game ticket with each plan. And if the Redlegs should participate in the World Series, "plan" participants would receive first consideration for tickets.

Ten attractive plans, covering every contingency, and which fit every pocketbook, are offered. They range from a box seat for every Redleg home game for eighty-five dollars to Plan "I" which provides a reserved seat for one night game with each team and OPENING GAME for sixteen dollars.

You assure yourself of the same good seats in choice locations for every date and you have no waiting in line.

Tickets are transferable and may be used by your family, friends, customers or employees. Business firms which do considerable entertaining find the "plans" a most popular package.

The "plans" are perfect for gifts. The Redleg office has attractive gift certificates which can be obtained and the recipient can select his plan at a later date.

Ticket Manager Charley Morris and assistant Roger Noble also have gift certificates available for a game or any number of games which are proving to be popular gifts for birthdays, anniversaries, etc.
